
SAN TOMAS EXPRESSWAY has been long in building and, of course, is far from the finished product, even if you can scoot all the way from Williams to Campbell Ave. on its smooth surface at the present time.

The opening of the expressway to Campbell Ave. was a well-kept secret, as we reported last week.

No Campbell city official had been informed that the barriers were to be removed Monday morning, July 11. It also came as a surprise to County Supervisor Ralph Mehrkens.

WE THINK such a situation is ridiculous, stupid and uncalled for.

We don't blame the councilmen and city officials for being burned.

We hope the letter that was sent from Campbell to the supervisors and to the county public works director, James T. Pott, was couched in strong enough language to get the point across.

While we admit that it would have been unnecessary and sort of silly to have a ribbon-cutting ceremony for that portion of the expressway, it is inexcusable in our book for a county employee apparently to be so lacking in common courtesy that he would fail to notify other city or county officials that the barriers were being removed.

IT IS not the actual ribbon-cutting or opening ceremonies of the expressway that bother us.

In our career as a newspaperman we have attended enough of those affairs to last us the rest of our natural life. And then some.

But we are concerned that one individual, whose salary is paid by the taxpayers, apparently considers the county expressway system his own private domain to rule as he sees fit.

We hastily add that undoubtedly County Public Works Director Pott has had more to do with the county expressways than any other person in the county.

He probably knows more about 'em than any other county employee. And he should. He's getting paid for just that.

But we insert a note of caution.

THE EXPRESSWAYS are not just one man's province.

We recall that a $70 million county bond issue financed the first phase and an even bigger issue is scheduled to be voted on next February.

Our whole point is, of course, the same one we have been harping on for such a long time.

That is, in this county there seems to be a continuous breakdown in communications between one agency and another.

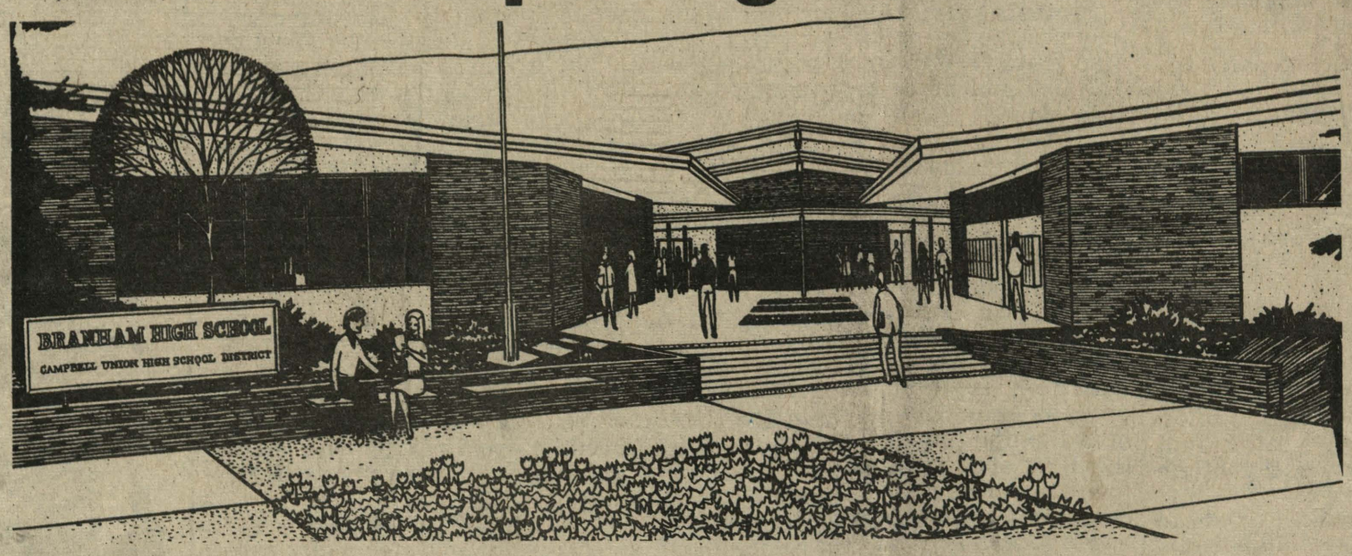
It is about time the Tax hike request goes to voters next Tuesday



BRANHAM LANE--Architect's sketch of the new Branham High School scheduled to be opened in 1967. This will be the seventh high school in the Campbell Union High School District with the eighth planned for the following year. District officials point out that the expense of staffing and equipping these new schools is one of the basic reasons that an increase in the maximum tax rate is necessary. Voters will be asked to approve the 35-cent increase next Tuesday.

High school district seeks approval of 35-cent increase

Voters in the Campbell Union High School District (there are 66,278 registered) next Tuesday, July 26, will be asked to approve a 35-cent increase for a five-year period in the district's general purpose tax rate.

The basic reason for the increase, E. M. (Doc) Arends, board president, explains is to provide necessary funds to staff and equip two more high schools planned for the district.

Polls in the 38 consolidated precincts throughout the high school district (which is composed of five elementary school districts, Campbell, Moreland, Cambrian, Union and Burbank) will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

If the increase is authorized, district officials explain, the tax rate will go to $1.35 which will still be below the average of $1.43 of all county high school districts.

WAS $1.25

In review, district officials also point out, that the raise is only 10-cents more than the $1.25 rate that had been authorized when the last high school (Westmont) was built in 1964.

This authorization expired in June 1965 and the tax reverted to $1.

According to Laurance J. Hill, district superintendent, to staff and equip the two new high schools that are scheduled (Branham Lane in 1967 and on the west side in 1968), the trustees, based on previous experience (five schools have been built in three years), find that the $1.35 rate is necessary.

The trustees have guaranteed, however, that the overall tax rate of the district (including bond interest and redemption) will actually increase only 12-cents during the next fiscal year, if the election is successful.

The overall tax rate for the district at the present time is $1.84. Board members have specified that, if the increase is authorized, the tax rate will be set at $1.96 for the next year.

NEW SCHOOLS

The two new high schools (number 7 and 8 in the district) which along with the other six in the district will serve a student population of approximately 14,000.

Hill estimates that it will cost approximately $500,000 to staff and equip the two new

City's dilemma

Trees or sidewalk?

It was with deep regret that the tree-conscious City Council ruled that the attractive liquid amber trees in a number of spots on Nottingham Ave. (pictured here) are ruining the sidewalk and curbs and will have to be removed.

The decision to remove the offending trees (some of the damage being done can be seen in the above photo) came only after all the councilmen had personally visited the scene.

The council also has ruled that the trees that must be planted in their place must be suitable for the narrow (2 1/2-foot) parkway.

Bank, C. of C. to lose Gene Kelley to Iowa

Gene Kelley, assistant vice-president and manager of the Campbell office of the First National Bank, has resigned effective July 29 and will move to Newton, Iowa, to accept an executive position in that city.

Kelley also resigned as Chamber of Commerce vice president.

First National Bank officials have not yet announced who will succeed Kelley in the Campbell office.

Kelley came to Campbell as branch manager when First National opened its office here in the Campbell Plaza Shopping Center in 1963.

Kelley has been a director of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce for almost three years. In January he was installed as vice-president of that organization. Directors of the C. of C. were scheduled to meet today to appoint a director in Kelley's place and also name a vice-president.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelley have sold their home on Sobrato Lane and with their two daughters, Deborah, 15, and Linda, 9, plan to leave shortly after the first of the month.

GENE KELLEY
--resigns

Both Mr. and Mrs. Kelley grew up in Iowa and Mrs. Kelley's parents still reside in Newton. Kelley was employed in Newton for three years prior to accepting a bank job in Carson City, Nevada in 1960.

He joined the First National Bank in April, 1963 and was named manager of the branch here when it was opened.

Double action

Campbell police nab gal hold-up suspect

Star and Bar Service Station, at 370 E. Hamilton, was held up twice last week. And by Monday of this week suspects in both armed robberies were in custody of the police.

On Monday afternoon, Campbell Police Chief John Morgan and Sgt. Ron Eddlemon, arrested a 26-year old blonde suspected of holding up Paul B. Zweigle, 18-year old Star and Bar attendant, last Wednesday.

According to Zweigle, he was confronted by the young woman who demanded the cash drawer and threatened him with a revolver she took from her sweater

Chief Morgan and Sgt. Eddlemon, in cooperation with the sheriff's office and San Jose police, arrested the young woman at a south San Jose apartment she shared with two other women.

She was booked for armed robbery, burglary and possession of narcotics. The burglary and narcotics counts are from the Santa Clara County sheriff's office warrants.

The 5-foot-6, 130-pound blonde allegedly drove into the service station about 2:30 a.m. on Wednesday. The till was emptied of $62 at the point of the .32 pistol.

While the hold-up was going on a German Shepherd dog waited in the green Chevrolet for her mistress to finish the job. According to police reports, the suspect has a German Shepherd as a pet.

The next evening the attendant was held up for a second time by a youth who waited until there were no customers in the station before he entered. The youth threatened the attendant with a knife and took the money from the cash register.

Police later apprehended the suspect in a cream colored station wagon on Central Ave. In custody are Terry Lee Nicholson, 414 California St., Santa Cruz, Daniel Rose, employed at Alum Rock Stables in San Jose and Frederick Rupert Chandler, 230 S. Third St., San Jose.

Campbell police are also checking out suspects in the armed robbery of Billy Wilson's Liquors, 1700 S. Bascom Ave. on July 13. Sal Orpitelli, a clerk, told police a man entered the store shortly after opening. The suspect brandished a gun and demanded the days receipts of $265.

How far to go

City faces crucial test in "battle-of-drive-in"

How far the City of Campbell is to go in the "battle-of-the-drive-in," may be determined next Monday night at the City Council meeting.

County approval has been obtained for the auto theater, over this community's vigorous protests, to be located off Union Ave. adjacent to the freeway but Campbell officials maintain that until the access routes are settled, no construction work can start.

According to plans submitted, access to the proposed theater will be on property within the city limits of Campbell, although the theater itself is in county territory.

County officials have approved the issuance of a permit without any reference to access routes. Campbell people maintain that access is an integral part of the overall development and expect to appeal the issuance of the permit on that basis.

At Monday night's council meeting, council members will be asked to give direction to the city staff as to how far the city should pursue this phase. Some individual council members have indicated that they would be willing to take the matter to court. On Monday, the council could authorize the city attorney to take any legal actions.

SERVICE STATION

Next Monday the council is expected to adopt the ordinance that will allow a service station in the proposed shopping center complex on W. Hamilton and the proposed Marathon Dr.

First reading has already been given the ordinance and the councilmen have indicated they will approve the final draft which will overrule action by the Planning Commission which denied the Planned Development plans for the area because of the station. The property involved is the Walter Pruvich land with J. L. Thompson as developer.

Three other zone change and one annexation ordinances are also scheduled to re-

Editorial

Tax hike needed

Campbell Union High School District voters will go to the polls on Tuesday, July 26, to decide upon a proposed $1.35 per $100 tax rate for operation of the district for the next several years.

The Press recommends a favorable vote on the measure basically because we are convinced that only by this tax increase will the district be able to continue to operate in an efficient manner.

Throughout the years the Campbell Union High School District has built an enviable reputation for scholarship and its students find ready places available to them in the best institutions of higher learning throughout the United States.

And this reputation has been gained while the district has been undergoing tremendous 'growing pains that are almost unprecedented in school history.

In the past 11 years, the district has grown from one lone high school plant to six. The seventh district high school on Branham Lane will be opened in 1967 and the eighth is scheduled for 1968.

The present tax rate is $1 as compared to the average for all Santa Clara County high school districts of $1.43, so that, even with the proposed increase Campbell will still be below the average.

We are confident that the board of trustees and the district staff would not ask for a tax increase unless it was necessary to maintain the district in an efficient manner.

We think the record of the district during this phenomenal growth period of the past 11 years has proven that district officials recognize their responsibility to the taxpayers.

That is why we unhesitatingly go along with the recommendation that a tax hike of 35 cents is needed. We are confident that the board members and district staff are presenting a program that is economically and educationally sound.

The complicated financing of school districts today is confusing to a layman and probably to many educators as well.

Yet all of us recognize that building, equipping and staffing schools takes money. And lots of it.

It also is obvious when a district has built three new high schools in the past five years and two others in the five years previously that the cost to the district must be pretty well established.

Therefore, it follows that when two more high schools are to be built, more money will be needed. Hence the request for a 35 cent tax hike.

District residents will recall that when Westmont was built district voters authorized a 25-cent tax increase. This authorization expired in June 1965 and the district tax reverted to the present $1 rate.

As Emerson (Doc) Arends, board president, points out: "through the years we have continued to offer an excellent education to the young people of this community at the lowest possible cost to the taxpayer, but in these days of rising costs the present $1 rate just isn't adequate to finance our present program".

We think it speaks well for the district officials that despite rising costs and rapid expansion the tax rate has remained the lowest in Santa Clara County.

We believe district officials are sincere in their desire to maintain a high educational standard at the lowest possible cost to the taxpayers.

As a taxpayer in the district, in probably a higher than average bracket, we dislike tremendously to see any increase in our tax bill.

Yet it is obvious to us that there is no alternative, if our school district is to maintain the standard we all desire.

This increase of 35 cents will only mean that the overall district tax will go up 12 cents this year, board members have guaranteed. The overall tax rate, which includes bond redemptions and other levies, now totals $1.84. Board members have specified that it will be only necessary next year to go to $1.96 to meet budget requirements.

This guarantee, if you will, is another indication of the dedication and responsibility district officials have toward the lowly taxpayer.

The Press urges a "yes" vote in next Tuesday's election on the proposed increase in the maximum tax rate of the Campbell Union High School District from $1 to $1.35.

INCIDENTALLY the story in last week's Press about the surprise opening of the expressway upset one of our readers so much that he called the office twice.

Fae Billingsley, who already wears more hats around the joint than anyone on the staff, as a result of the phone calls had to find place for still another chapeau.

She is the new head of the "soothing-irate-readers" department.

Lucky Fae was on the receiving end of both calls.

-0-

"IRATE READER" took exception to the news story on the expressway because it did not explain in big, bold type that the entire expressway was not completed.

Old "Irate" apparently did not read the entire news story which specified that only the portion through Campbell was open. He had tried to go all the way and was stymied by a road block.

The Campbell Press, he maintained, should have warned him that he couldn't get through.

Fae handled the situation with aplomb but of course, couldn't satisfy 'Old Irate' who probably wanted blood.

BY THE WAY, although the expressway is completed to Budd Ave., it is not planned to allow traffic to traverse that portion from Campbell Ave. to Budd until the Budd Ave. improvement is completed.

At least, that's what Bill Wren, Campbell's public works director, has recommended and the council has approved.

Come to think of it, Bill, have you informed that county works director about that plan?

Otherwise, some morning, you know, you might find those Campbell Ave. barriers removed.

FBI RECORDS, we have been told, are the most complete in the world.

We can well believe it.

The magazine that the office receives every month from the Federal Bureau of Investigation is addressed to "Honorable George Vierhus".

That title proves beyond a shadow of a doubt just how comprehensive the FBI's records must be.

POLITICS will soon be picking up steam, if that's the proper way to describe the increase in tempo as November approaches.

Before the campaign gets too far along, we suggest that the party workers should first learn how to spell the names of the candidates they favor.

We note, for example, in a press release sent out by the Republican League that Assemblyman George Milias, the incumbent who is rated a shoo-in for reelection, was to be the speaker at the league's meeting.

But the assemblyman's name was spelled "Malias" three times in three different places in the same release.

Oh well, we suppose George has nothing to worry about. It's not a write-in.

As long as the name can be recognized on the ballot, you don't have to spell it, just stamp the "x" in the proper spot.

City planners deny high density "pre-zoning"

Protests from residents in the area and also from the Town of Los Gatos played a big role Monday night in the Planning Commission unanimous decision to deny a zone change request submitted by Wallace D. Perry for property on Pollard Road.

The area is located at Burrows and Pollard roads just south of Audrey. It is in the process of being annexed to the city. It is the first such request to come before the commission under the new so-called "pre-zoning" ordinance which allows the city to zone areas prior to their annexation.

The property is now zoned R-1 (single family) and the applicant asked for R-3-S (high density multiples). He had indicated he planned to build a convalescent hospital on the parcel.

Mrs. Madge Overhouse, of 885 Pollard, was spokesman for more than 20 residents who had signed a petition opposing the zone change. She told the commission that the residents were not objecting to the hospital but felt that the R-3 zoning gave too high a density to the area, especially if more than one-story buildings were allowed. She added that the city would lose control of the area if R-3 was granted.

In a letter to the commission, the Los Gatos planning department conceded that multiple family was probably the best zoning for the property but Campbell's R-3 was too dense and the height allowed in multi-zones in Campbell was objectionable.

The commission denied the application without prejudice and immediately initiated steps to hold another hearing on Aug. 15 to zone the parcel R-1 which would allow a hospital with a use permit. The commissioners indicated in their discussion that they felt R-3 zoning would give the city only architectural control.

OTHER ACTIONS

In other actions, the commission:

--APPROVED the application of Walter V. Hays for a use permit that would allow a pet clinic to be located at 1590 La Pradera Drive.

A recent ordinance change allows clinics in C-1 zones. Hays was the instigator of the move to have the ordinance modified.

A discussion over what constitutes soundproofing under the ordinance almost got off into the technical stratosphere when two experts on the commission in that area, Jim Tomlinson and Ed Platt, started asking questions.

But Commissioner Thayer Lyons suggested that the commission come down to earth because soundproofing was not the issue before then.

--APPROVED the application for a Jack-in-the-Box restaurant to be located at 1737 S. Bascom (diagonally across from Hamilton Plaza). The approval specified that the pole sign, separate from the building, could be 35-feet high and that a six-foot high wall would be on the south and rear property lines.

--APPROVED a 19-lot single family subdivision submitted by Hamilton Enterprises (Chez and Grattan) on property located on the north side of W. Latimer Ave. just west of San Tomas Expressway.

Involved in the discussion was Gordon Gibson, owner of a parcel now zoned R-2 east of the property involved. Gibson wanted the proposed Springfield Drive to extend to his property to allow access for the residents of the apartments that might go on it.

But the commission thought otherwise and approved the map as presented.

schools. This includes textbooks, library books, science equipment and salaries of staff personnel.

As has been the case in the other schools of the district, the construction costs will be borne by financial aid by the state.

District officials estimate that the tax increase will add about $6 to the average taxpayer's bill in the district.

STUDENT POPULATION

In the five elementary school districts that make up Campbell Union High School District there are 60 elementary schools with a present enrollment of 36,800 which makes the total student population of the district close to 50,000.

In an 11-year period, the high school district has grown from one high school (Campbell) with an 1800 enrollment to the present six high schools with a 12,000 enrollment. By 1970 it is expected that the enrollment in the district will exceed 15,000.

The city may save approximately $2000 as a result of asking for bid proposals for the city's insurance, according to City Manager Bob Stephens. Stephens on Monday will present the results of the insurance bids and the council is expected to take action on the matter.

Stephens will also submit his recommendation on the employment of a financial consultant for the city to research the city's fiscal position as related to a future bond issue for capital improvements.

The council may also next Monday act on two appointments to the Planning Commission. The terms of Thayer Lyons and Kel Young are expiring. Both commissioners will probably be reappointed, city hall observers believe, if they indicate they so desire.

Other matters before the council include a request of approval for a 19-lot subdivision submitted by Hamilton Enterprises (Chez and Grattan). The tract received the Planning Commission's approval on Monday.

Also up to bat will be the final step in the long-awaited Local Improvement District No. 11 bounded roughly by W. Campbell Ave., Bascom, Apricot and Union. Results of bids submitted for the improvements will be presented.

Elizabeth Soley recites vows with Lieutenant Johnson

MRS. STEPHEN F. JOHNSON

A home in Alexandria, Louisiana has been established by newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Stephen F. Johnson, who were married late last month at the First Methodist Church of Campbell. The bride is the former Elizabeth J. Soley, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. R. Clyne Soley of 3457 Kirkwood Drive, San Jose. Stephen, a second lieutenant in the Air Force, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Johnson of El Cerrito, Calif.

The Rev. William Gould officiated at the double ring ceremony. Elizabeth was attired in a gown of French lace and peau de soie, styled with long tapered sleeves and a lace bodice. She carried a bouquet of white rosebuds in the form of a partial cross. A single fabric rose secured her elbow length illusion veil.

Barbara Soley, twin sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. Misses Judy Lew and Ellen Borden were the bridesmaids. Their dresses of strawberry pink chiffon over taffeta, featured long chiffon sleeves and matching trains. They carried long-stemmed red rosebuds.

Donald Johnson, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Ushers were Alan Johnson and Alex Saldamando.

Eighty guests attended a wedding dinner held at the church following the ceremony. A three-tiered cake decorated with wedding bells was cut by the happy couple.

Elizabeth is a graduate of Blackford High School where she was co-editor of the year book and a member of the California Scholarship Federation. She also was graduated from the University of California at Berkeley, School of Chemistry. She has two sisters, a twin, Barbara Soley, and Mrs. Dwayne Reed of San Diego.

Stephen is a graduate of El Cerrito High School and the University of California at Berkeley, School of Chemistry. He has two brothers, twins, David and Donald Johnson.

The couple spent their honeymoon at Lake Tahoe and are now settled in Alexandria.

West Valley College offers L.V.N. training program

The only Licensed Vocational Nurse training program currently offered by a junior college in Santa Clara County will be presented this fall at West Valley College, according to Albert J. Riendeau, dean of vocational and technical education.

The program will be offered in cooperation with the Community Hospital of Los Gatos-Saratoga.

The one-year course is aimed particularly at mature women seeking a worthwhile profession, where they can be of service and fill an ever-growing community need, Riendeau said. A meeting of those interested is set for 9 a.m. Friday, July 29 in the college auditorium.

Applicants for the program must be between 18 and 50 years of age, be a high school graduate or equivalent and be in good health and submit character references. A complete physical examination, including chest x-ray and laboratory tests is required, Riendeau said.

All graduates will receive a diploma and will be granted the privilege of wearing the school cap and pin. The student may then apply to the State Board to take the test to become a Licensed Vocational Nurse (LVN).

The program is tuition free, with the student furnishing her own books and uniforms. The course is accredited by the State Board of Vocational Nurse Examiners, and 45 units of junior college credit will be required for completion.

It will be a full-time, 12-month program beginning in September, with employment opportunities, upon completion, available in hospitals, doctor's offices, convalescent hospitals, and other such facilities.

The program will be offered under the direction of Mrs. Betty Hedrick, RN, and Mrs. Helene Flolo, RN.

PLAN PROGRAM - Mrs. Helene Flolo, R.N. (left) and Mrs. Betty Hedrick, R.N. who will be in charge of the Vocational Nurse Training Program to begin this fall at West Valley College, look over some material that may be of assistance in the course. The program will be the only one of its kind currently being offered in Santa Clara County.

Christian Youth Exchange students to return home

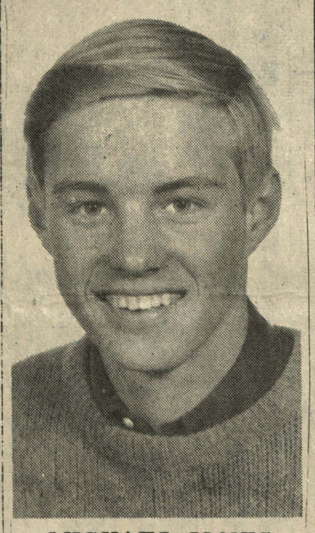
Like two ships that pass in the night, Brigitte Cadier and Michael Jones, International Christian Youth Exchange students, will return to their homes this week. For the past year they have been living with each other's families in a foreign land.

Michael, son of the Leland Jones of 12511 Jolene Court, Saratoga, has been the guest of Brigitte's parents, Rev. and Mrs. Guy Cadier of Toulon, France. Brigitte has spent this past year with "the Jones family". They are returning to their homes with an experience in international relations that they will never forget.

Brigitte attended Westmont High School while living here, and her English is now nearly perfect, except for a delightful accent. With a dimpled smile, she says Americans are very friendly and she "hates to go home!"

The daughter of a Toulon minister, Brigitte is one of six children. Toulon is a navy port of 200,000 population.

While living with the Joneses she made many friends and attended all high school functions. School in America is vastly different from Toulon, she stated. In French schools there are no extra-curricular activities. Social life does not revolve around the schools as it does in America.



MICHAEL JONES

BRIGITTE CADIER

In many cases, she declared, you do not even know your teacher's name, and students are required to take many more subjects than students do here. Brigitte will leave Friday for Wisconsin, where 250 Christian Youth Exchange Students will gather for a three day conference before they leave for New York to charter a plane for Europe and home.

Michael, who will be a senior at Westmont High School in September, is interested in music, and plays the piano and French horn. He is a member of Campbell DeMolay and has played in the Westmont High School band. Mike is not a prolific writer, and Mrs. Jones is eager to hear his first hand reports.

At this writing Michael is in New York, awaiting a flight home which has been delayed due to the airline strike. He has visited Scotland, England, Holland and Germany.

He had a delightful visit with his grandparents during Easter vacation in Holland, when they were on a two month's tour of the Scandanavian countries. He attended classes in Toulon, and traveled extensively. Awaiting his return are three sisters and a brother. The two exchange students were sponsored by the Congregational Church of Campbell.

Parent group meets Tuesday

Dr. William F. Baxter of Los Altos will be the guest speaker at the next meeting of the Cleft Palate Parent Group on Tuesday, July 25 at Joseph McKinnon School, 2390 Moorpark Ave., San Jose at 8 p.m. All interested parents are welcome to attend the meeting.

Staters report to American Legion Friday

Highlight of the next meeting of West Valley Post 158, American Legion and its auxiliary, will be a report by the five high school students who attended the Youth State Conclave in Sacramento last month.

The five students were sponsored by the local post and its auxiliary to Boys' State and Girls' State. They are Allen Shimizu and Marcia Weber from Campbell High School; Brick McIntosh and Ann Hilgers from Saratoga High and Penny Kooper from Los Gatos High School.

The youths and their parents will be the guests of the Post and the Auxiliary at a pot-luck dinner beginning at 6:30 p.m.

In the near future West Valley Post 158 will present an American Flag to the Home and School Club of the Ruby Howes Elementary School in Los Gatos. The flag will be used by the club and the Boy Scout Cub Pack sponsored by the club.

Club picnic

The British-American Club of Northern California will hold their annual club picnic on Sunday, July 24, at Linda Vista Park near Mission San Jose. The club will have exclusive use of the park for the day and guests need only bring whatever food they require. Full details may be obtained from George Sharrard, 378-9634.

Police Dept. honors Mrs. Morgan for community service to youth

GIVEN AWARD - Mrs. Wyland R. Morgan is presented a Certificate of Appreciation by the Campbell Police Department for her outstanding service as chairman of the Campbell Youth Guidance Committee. Making the presentation is Police Chief John Morgan.

Mrs. Wyland R. (Evelyn) Morgan of Los Gatos has tendered her resignation as chairman of the Campbell Youth Guidance Committee. In recognition of her 10 years of service, Police Chief John Morgan presented her with a Certificate of Appreciation from the Campbell Police Department.

Mrs. Morgan, who is known throughout the West Valley for her work with the youth committee, the P.T.A. and the Campbell Country Woman's Club, has helped the police with "first time offenders". She has received more than 300 first time arrest cases and been successful in 90 percent of them.

From a pioneer San Joaquin family, Mrs. Morgan earned her teaching credential from Fresno State College and also studied at UCLA. She retired as principal of a school in Fresno at the time of her marriage to Dr. Wyland Morgan, Campbell dentist, in 1933.

Mrs. Morgan believes that her training in dramatics and public speaking has helped her with teaching and club work. She was one of the three women with the Campbell Country Woman's Club who established scholarships for students in the county in 1937, a program which is now being carried on.

The mother of a grown son who is a teacher in Tracy, Mrs. Morgan has served as president of the Campbell High PTA, treasurer of the El Paraiso District, and then took over the welfare program for the Sixth District PTA. The latter unit awarded her its honorary lifetime membership for her statewide work with the Youth Guidance Council.

Mrs. Morgan has also served as president of the Los Gatos-Saratoga Republican Assembly, and was installed as president of the Loma Prieta District of Federated Woman's Clubs, which includes Santa Clara, San Benito, Monterey and Santa Cruz counties.

She and Dr. Morgan recently returned from a leisurely two month's ship tour of the Orient.

In a letter to Chief Morgan, Mrs. Morgan states she must slow her community efforts, but that she will be available for assistance, if needed.

FUCHSIA FANCIER--Dudley Davis of 300 Union Ave. in Campbell displays one of his baskets of fuchsias he will exhibit at the eleventh annual San Jose Fuchsia Society show, "Fuchsia Fairyland" in the Third Floor Auditorium of the Emporium, Thursday, July 21 from noon until 9 p.m. and on Friday, July 22, from 9:30 a.m. to 9 p.m.

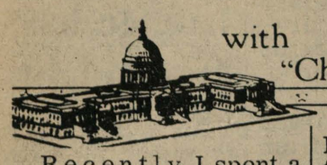
ON CAPITOL HILL



with "Charlie" Gubser

Recently I spent a week in France hopping by helicopter from one military base to another. After such a trip the enormity of our problems arising from President De Gaulle's insistence that U. S. forces evacuate France assumes staggering proportions.

The financial aspects of the move are exasperating when one considers that more than $2 billion in American taxpayers' money will be flushed down the drain by the ungrateful action of "le Grand Charles". But even more serious are the logistical problems of accomplishing this gigantic move before the deadline of March 31, 1967.

As yet De Gaulle has not been cooperative in negotiating the details of the move and our military people cannot start the relocation in earnest until basic decisions, dependent upon negotiation, have been made.

For example, should we leave runways sealed against the weather and replace roofs of buildings to insure that they can be used at a later date? Should our nine emergency hospitals in France be left in a standby status? Until these and other decisions are made, our base commanders are simply handcuffed.

Most serious is the military degradation which will inevitably result from cutting the French heart out of the NATO defense structure. After the Berlin crisis of the early '50's it was obvious that our military supply line (COMZEUR) which ran from north to south through Germany and sometimes came within six miles of the East German border was very vulnerable.

So the decision was made to change to an east-west supply line which ran through the heart of France. Tremendous NATO petroleum pipelines were constructed across France and 181 military installations with vast storage facilities were built in the country. Now, thanks to De Gaulle, we must abandon all this and revert to a supply line situation which was vulnerable and inadequate in 1952.

De Gaulle undoubtedly feels that the nuclear stalemate between Russia and the United States will prevent an attack by the Russians against Europe even if NATO is disintegrated. Though some embrace the wishful thinking that the Russian bear has turned into a dove, it is risky to overlook some basic facts.

The USSR has 95 divisions west of the Ural Mountains--more than they had when the NATO Treaty was signed in 1949! Twenty of these Russian divisions can move rapidly and are capable of achieving a surprise attack. Russia has 800 medium and intermediate ballistic missiles which can hit any point in Europe today.

Furthermore, each year that Russia has claimed a cut in her military budget we have not seen action which equals the claim. In fact, Russia's strength which could be thrown against Europe is steadily increasing. So, in my opinion, our experts are correct that Europe's protection depends as much on NATO's military strength as upon American nuclear power.

Perhaps De Gaulle, in his cold-blooded selfishness, figures that we will rise to this occasion and improvise a proper NATO defense despite the roadblocks he has created. He is undoubtedly calculating that he can always count on the United States to save France's bacon. And in the meantime he will have had a free ride!

SOCIAL SECURITY

Questions and Answers

Q. - Will I be required to drop my present hospital insurance when Medicare becomes effective?

A. - You won't be required to, but your present company may cancel or change your policy as of July 1. Check with your agent about this.

Q. - My son, who is 21, dropped out of college last year, but he intends to go back. Could he draw social security benefits under the new law?

A. - As a full-time unmarried student in an accredited school, your son could receive monthly payments until he reaches 22, if he is the child of a beneficiary or a deceased worker. If he was receiving social security payments which were stopped because he reached 18, he may again receive benefits as a full-time student.

Q. - I don't know whether I should file for reduced widow's benefits at 60 or wait until I'm 62 and receive a higher benefit rate. What should I do?

A. - This question is frequently asked by persons visiting the social security office. They are not told whether or not they should file. However, they are informed of their rights and receive an explanation of how their benefits will be reduced if they do decide to file before 62. Before making a choice you should check with the social security office.

Q. - I will be 65 in three months. I am working now, but will retire in the month I reach 65. Should I apply for Medicare now, or wait until I retire?

A. - You should file now. Medicare is divided into two parts--hospital insurance and medical insurance. If you file now, or in any of the three months prior to the month you reach 65, both parts of Medicare will start with the month of your 65th birthday. If you file for Medicare in the month you are 65, or any of the following three months, your medical insurance will not begin immediately, although you will have hospital insurance protection from the month you become 65.

Notes written by Mrs. Knowles while abroad

From the deck at night the lights of Acapulco bay were beautiful, the city lights glittered in many colors and the ring of mountains from bottom to top sparkled with the lights of hotels, etc. It was a lovely sight, as we lay anchored in the middle.
April 27, 1966

Left harbor at 2 a.m Saw films on Panama Canal and Nassau. There was a tour of Bridge, but there were far too many steep steps to climb after end of elevator trip. Seems as if I spend an awful lot of time going to and from elevator many times a day, waiting for it, trying to keep track of day's program so as not to miss anything, writing and reading.

It's hard to keep organized and I still have to hunt my way around ship for some things. Three hours a day goes for mealtimes. Usually retire about 10:30 - 11. Then several nights we have lost 30 - 40 minutes by setting clocks ahead.
April 28, 1966

At sea headed for Panama. We saw coast of Costa Rica along the way. Hot and sticky outside. Smooth. Temperature 80 - humidity 85.
April 29, 1966

At sea all day. Nothing of special interest. In the evening, after arriving Balboa, Panama at 6, most people went ashore to shop or night club.
April 30, 1966

Back to Panama Canal story. Got up at 6:30 to watch barge (so small) turn huge ship a round with no aid from ship's engines. The passage was very interesting as there was a running commentary on building of it, mechanics, cost, etc., frequently along the way. It was also a beautiful 8 hour trip through 3 locks which raised the ship (like an elevator, by adding water to the "boxes" after ship entered) 85 ft. and 3 more locks which lowered it the 85 ft. back to sea level.

Crossing the enormous man-made Gatun Lake (formed on the Continental Divide by immense dams, causing the waters of that river to drain into 2 oceans as the locks it feeds are emptied on both sides of divide - the only thing like it in the world). This lake is dotted by many wooded islands - mountain peaks rising from the water along the divide.

I spent a great deal of time on deck, then I'd have to go inside at times to cool off. Watched the lock gates close behind us. Their weight is terrific. The engineering on this project and the machinery done at turn of century were so perfect that less than 15% has been changed or renewed.

Many modern experts have been asked to do research, but none has found any major way to improve it!! The canal is all fresh water, and 52,000,000 gallons of water empty into the sea every time a ship goes through.

Statewide "clearing house" assists county assessors

An assessor, who must know the market value of everything from a tractor to a shopping center to assess property for the county tax roll, has a statewide "clearing house" to assist him.

The probable sales price of something that isn't for sale is essential to establishing its value for assessment.

Furthermore, values change. Each year the Santa Clara County assessor must revalue thousands of items from prunes to Polaris missiles.

These complicated evaluations face many counties. The State Board of Equalization has 25 appraisers who specialize in assisting assessors with these and other problems as a sort of clearing house.

This section of the Board, called the Division of Assessment Standards (DAS), works closely with the 58 county assessors in promoting uniformity in all counties' assessment practices.

Besides maintaining a 2,200-page "bible" of accepted appraisal and office management procedures, DAS advises and instructs in the latest techniques of the ever-changing science of assessment.

OTHER AIDS

But the Board's responsibility in the property tax field does not end there. The Board also evaluates utilities for local taxation and establishes the ratios in each county of assessed to full cash value for some state school aid and other purposes.

Although the Board today is a multi-tax agency, its 97-year-old name stems from its original (and present) duty of maintaining a substantially uniform level of assessed values between the counties. Thus the title "Board of Equalization." Most states call its counterpart a tax commission or revenue agency.

Since utilities ignore county boundaries, the Board has a staff of analysts working year-round to place market values on taxable property ranging from hydro-electric plants and transmission lines to railroad roundhouses.

The utilities are then assessed by the five-member State Board. Santa Clara County is represented on this Board by George Reilly. After assessment, the utilities' tax base is divided among taxing agencies on a complex code area basis.

Under another program, a group of State Board appraisers, including specialists in oil, mining, timber, and industrial properties, appraise locally-assessed properties in each county every three years independently of the assessor.

RATIOS

This intercounty equalization procedure results in bringing locally-assessed property ratios of assessed to full cash value into substantial agreement among the counties.

The ratios also are used to measure school districts' capacities to raise enough taxes to support a minimum school program.

The relationship of a county's ratio to the statewide ratio then becomes an important factor in determining each school district's qualifications for:

1. Supplementary state funds.
2. State construction loans and repayments.
3. Borrowing from private sources.
4. A county-wide recoupment tax to help support the minimum school program.

Two dead; local woman hurt in hiway 17 crash

A grinding headon collision on Highway 17 at the Camden Ave. overpass claimed the lives of two men July 15. Pronounced dead at the scene were Arnold Henderson, 54, a carpenter of 1972 Bellomy St., Santa Clara and Morris Kahl, an insurance adjuster of Merced.

Also injured in the crash was Mrs. Jacqueline Rader, 35, of 878 Almarida Dr., Campbell, who plowed into the wreckage a few moments later.

Traffic was tied up for half an hour at 7:30 a.m. as motorists on their way to work slowed to view the wreckage.

The Highway Patrol said Kahl's northbound 1966 sedan unaccountably crossed the dirt divider at the crest of the overpass and crashed into Henderson's southbound auto. County Hospital reported Mrs. Rader suffered leg and arm injuries, but was in good condition.
